EN YEARS FOR SLOCUM CAPTAIN stent of the Law Imposed for Criminal Negligence.

New York, Jan. 29 .- William H. Van chaick was found guilty at New York Saturday of criminal negligence in failing to have fire drills on the steamer Gen. Slocum which he commanded in June, 1904, when that steamer burned with the loss of over 1,000 lives. He was immediately sentenced to 10 years' imprisonment by Judgo Thomas of the United States district court. The jury diagreed as to two other counts, in which he was charged with criminal negligence by the employment of life preservers of poor quality on the steam-

Late Suturday United States Marshal Henkel took Capt, Van Schaick to the Pombs, where he was locked up, the to give bail having left the city temporarily. The captain, who is an old man, was quite cheerful up to the time the news was broken to him that the bail friends on whom the captain depended was broken to him that the ball could not be arranged for Saturday. When he was told that he would have to go to the Tombs his whole demeanor changed, and he showed plainly that his commitment was a most disheartening blow. Marshal Henkel escorted him to Bills Passed. the Tombs in person, and tried to cheer the old man up. Just as they were leaving Capt. Van Schalck turned to the newspaper men present and said: "Boys, I was the victim of circumstances, I tried to do my duty as I saw it. I think my sentence was pretty harsh for an old man, but I have no fault or criticism to make. He also expressed his belief that great hope lay for him in the ap-peal, and that it would ultimately result in an acquital for him.
